

FULFILLMENT IN ONENESS

February 13th – 14th, 2010

Daily, you deal with a varied of people, objects, ideas, images, roles and environments that, throughout time, have a tremendous impact on the way you perceive yourself, the world around you and the divinity of your essence.

In addition to that, human upbringing creates various conditionings that, regardless of place, culture, social status and intellectual background, shapes a thought pattern where many people consider themselves to be incomplete, inadequate, dissatisfied, sad, anxious and, consequently, insecure, afraid and prone to escapism.

However, once a person is exposed to a profound, revealing, structured and logic teaching that allows s(he) to understand his(her) nature of being complete, happiness and understanding regardless of the external situations, such a person starts dealing with his(her) life in a more proactive, prosperous, supportive, smooth and satisfying manner.

In this course, we will carefully analyze a knowledge that will allows us to understand where the confusion lies, what are the reason for this misunderstanding of one´s own perception, how it was almost mechanically inserted in one´s own psyche and, most important of all, how to use the exposed knowledge in order to regain our original nature of being the architects, the sovereigns, the masters of our lives, which is to say, how to be free from the sense that “I lack something”.

In order to achieve it, you will embark in a fascinating journey of classes, meditations and interactions (Q&A) that will pass through the basics of your inner essence, will cross by dark caves that originate many confusions, frustrations and delusions and will travel across valleys of understanding that, inevitably, will culminate on the pinnacle of the cognition of your unchangeable and natural freedom, aliveness, happiness, peace and fulfillment.

Certainly this seminar will allow you to perceive and construct your life in a more gratifying, inspiring and rewarding way.
